Sir:

REQUEST FOR REFUND OF ERRONEOUSLY CHARGED FEES

On August 3, 2006 the undersigned paid issue fees in this case using an American Express account. The Notice of Allowance indicated only $1400.00 fee was due. Because advanced copies were also requested, the total charge authorized for the American Express Account was $1430.00.

Now, however, records from the American Express Account indicate that the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on August 5, 2006 erroneously charged the American Express Account for $1730.00. This charge was not only unauthorized, it was erroneous because there was no publication fee indicated as due in this matter on the Notice of Allowance. The charge made to the American Express Account indicates that it was an extra $300.00 publication fee.

This firm does have a standing authorization to charge fee deficiencies to our USPTO Deposit Account. We do not have any standing instructions for charging fee deficiencies to our American Express Account. It is not understood how the USPTO could have charged three hundred more dollars to the American Express Account than was authorized in the American Express Account signed by the undersigned and submitted to the USPTO on August 3, 2006.

In any event, the extra charge of $300.00 is clearly erroneous and return of same as soon as possible is respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,

NIXON & VANDERHYE P.C.
